CONDE DE LOS ANDES OPENS ITS DOORS TO WINE TOURISM

All ready for Conde de los Andes underground cellars start to amaze visitors

Our most historic winery, Conde de los Andes, located in Ollauri (Rioja Alta), starts in the next days an attractive program of wine tourism. Its underground cellars, whose oldest parts date back to the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries, are ready to surprise and excite visitors who have previously booked their visit. These 'calados' (as the underground caves are traditionally known) are an impressive testimony to the history and culture of Rioja wine. Wines Muriel now undertakes the commitment to conserve them and restore their former glory, which is represented both by the venerable stones and by a collection of hundreds of thousands of old vintage wine bottles.
