ALTA SYRAH “Highlights”

2014

- 96 – WINEREVIEWONLINE.COM, May 9, 2017
- 93 – JAMES SUCKLING, June 21, 2017

“Aromas of tobacco, spices, meat and plums follow through to a full body, round tannins and a savory finish. A big and rich style. 100% new American oak. Old style. But fun. Drink now.”

- 90 – WINE ADVOCATE, Dec. 30, 2016

“I don’t find many Syrah’s in Argentina these days, so I was glad to taste the 2014 Alta Syrah, which showed classical varietal notes of smoky bacon, tar and violets, even if the footprint from the élevage was a little too strong. But it resembled a modern and ripe northern Rhône, with good balance, fine tannins and a supple, tasty finish. It should improve as the toasty notes melt down in bottle.”

2013

- 90 – WINE ADVOCATE, Dec. 30, 2016

“I don't find many Syrahs in Argentina these days, so I was glad to taste the 2014 Alta Syrah, which showed classical varietal notes of smoky bacon, tar and violets, even if the footprint from the élevage was a little too strong. But it resembled a modern and ripe northern Rhône, with good balance, fine tannins and a supple, tasty finish. It should improve as the toasty notes melt down in bottle.”

2012

- 91 – WINE ENTHUSIAST, May 1, 2015

“Exuberant maple and coconut aromas are forward and announce aggressive oak. In the mouth, this beefy Syrah is full but fresh, with resinous richness offset by cutting tannins and acidity. Blueberry and blackberry flavors are okay and bring related vanilla and licorice notes in front of a lush finish.”

2010

- 89 – WINE SPECTATOR, 2013

“Toasty, displaying well-integrated spice box, oak and mesquite notes to the ripe plum fruit, with fine length on the rich finish. Drink now.”

2008

- 92 – WINE ADVOCATE, Dec. 2011

“....Meat, game and a hint of balsamic are the principal elements composing the aromatics of this rich, savory effort. Intense, succulent and long in the finish, this pleasure-bent Syrah will continue to provide prime drinking through 2020+.”
