DESCRIPTION

Full, even, dark ruby-red in color, a little lighter on A bold and slightly oaked nose with a vibrant deep purple hue. Aromas of strong blackberry and pepper. Delicious plum berries and deep black cherries. Hints of black forest, chocolate and grounded coffee beans on the middle of the palate. A nice long lingering finish, balanced by its strong fruit with texture and spice.

WINEMAKER NOTES

Two well-timed rain events in late January and early February kept vines healthy and in no rush to ripen, with the rest of February remaining dry. March saw the beginning of an "Indian Summer", which lasted until April. This was perfect for consistent ripening of grapes, with good color development and natural acidity. Barossa's reds have been described as having "incredible length of flavor, full-bodied, yet fine". This was not a boisterous vintage – rather one with exceptional elegance and poise.

SERVING HINTS

This wine pairs nicely with fried tofu and spicy ginger sesame sauce, beef stir fry with fresh pickled ginger or sticky barbecued beef ribs.
