

GEORGES DUBOEUF 'FLOWER LABEL' MÂCON-VILLAGES 2015

Description:

This 2015 Mâcon-Villages sports a brilliant golden color with nice complex aromas of white flowers (acacia), citrus notes and lemon peel. Supple and unctuous on the palate, it has a pleasant anise finish, which brings finesse and freshness to this great expression of Chardonnay from the Mâconnais.

Winemaker's Notes:

The soil is made up of limestone. Harvest is done mostly by machine. Indigenous yeasts are used for fermentation at temperatures between 68°F-71°F. Tank aging on fine lees.

Serving Hints:

Serve as an accompaniment to poached or steamed fish, broiled seafood, goat cheese and mussels.

Interesting Fact:

Within a natural isosceles triangle formed by Mâcon in the south, Tournos in the east and Cluny in the west, the noble and eminently Burgundian chardonnay grape reigns as absolute monarch due to the chalk-rich soil that gives distinction to its white wines. This is the southern part of the world-famous province of Burgundy, with its gently rolling hills and lush vineyards, so dear to the French romantic poet and statesman, Lamartine. The author, born in Mâcon, spent his youth in the picture book Mâconnais wine village of Milly. It was his love for the young and pretty Elvire that triggered his literary career. During his extremely active life, Lamartine devoted his energies to his dual vocations of poet and political figure. The white wines known as Mâcon-Villages come from some 40 different villages that lie to the north and west of Mâcon and the tranquil Saone River. The native chardonnay grapes produce lively and delicate wines overflowing with charm, especially in their youth.
