

CHÂTEAU FERRYLACOMBE

Provence,
FRANCE

A jewel in the heart of Provence; between the Mount Sainte-Victoire and the Aurélien Hills, at the foot of the Sainte-Victoire mountain range, 12 miles east of Aix-en-Provence, sits one of the most beautiful terroirs of Provence, the Vallée de l'Arc, (Arc Valley). Château Ferrylacombé is situated at the heart of the valley.

The history goes that by accompanying good King René of Anjou from Naples to Provence, the Ferry family originally settled in this land in 1442, founded the vineyards and remained well into the 1800's.

About 16 years ago, the property was acquired by the Pinot family and the winery is run today by Michel and his children, Matthew and Alexandra. The vineyards use integrated farming techniques and follow the Terra Vitis charter for sustainable viticulture. Besides making great Rosé, respecting the environment is their primary concern.
