Quintessential announces new hires

Updated 22 hrs ago

Inman

Fine wine import, marketing and sales company Quintessential announced two new hires.

Walter Inman is sales manager for Northern California.

Tiffany Michael, who has worked in Quintessential's Napa, headquarters for the past six years, will be directing the company's sales efforts in the newly-created Atlantic coastal region.

Taking over Michael's former position as Northern California chain and key account manager is Kelley Wyman. She comes to Quintessential with 18 years of experience in the beverage industry.
