“Barbera is a tricky grape variety that can produce unpleasant results because of its naturally high acidity. No such luck with this effort from Luca Bosio. The 2009 Barbera d'Alba is packed with juicy red and black fruits, complex notes of mocha, anise and dried herbs, all supported by smooth, supple tannins. This is an outstanding effort and a steal at the price.” -Robert Whitley

- 90 – ‘Best Buy’ – WINE ENTHUSIAST, May 1, 2011

“Egidio is an oak-aged Barbera d'Alba that opens with compelling aromas of chocolate, black cherry, plum and blackberry. The wine is smooth and soft in the mouth with integrated acidity that is fresh without being sharp.”
