

Pascual Toso

Reserva Cabernet Sauvignon “Press Highlights”

2021

- 91 – VINOUS, November 2, 2022

“...Purple in hue. The aromas include plum, hints of blackberry and blueberry and some layers of spice. On the palate, it’s lean and compact with mild juice and a little extract.”

2020

- 94 – JAMES SUCKLING, February 16, 2022

“A solid cabernet sauvignon with blackberries, blackcurrants and undertones of cedar. Full-bodied, chewy and rich, yet polished and rather plush. Give it time to soften. Better after 2024.”

2019

- 91 – VINOUS, November 30, 2021

“...Dark garnet in the glass. The nose of redcurrant, blueberry and blackberry jam has good character and intensity enhanced by cedar and orange petit fours. Full but comfortable on the palate with active tannins and an expansive flow, the lengthy finish delivers ripe fruit and syrup aromas. A sun-kissed Cabernet.”

2018

- 91 – WINE ADVOCATE, March 31, 2021

“I really enjoy the classical and balanced profile of the 2018 Reserva Cabernet Sauvignon, which is varietal and has rich flavors and a fine thread in the palate, with textbook Cabernet tannins. 60,000 bottles produced. It was bottled in August 2020..”

- 91 – VINOUS, Oct. 21, 2021

“...Garnet red in the glass. The nose features roasted red pepper, caramel and kirsch; cherry and blackberry heighten the complexity. Flavorful and voluminous in the mouth, with fine-grained tannins and good body. A chewy wine with a bold, lasting finish.”

2017

- 92 – JAMES SUCKLING, March 27, 2019

“In spite of the ripeness, depth and generous body, this cabernet retains a cool head and the delicate, herbal and bell pepper notes add interest. The fine tannins build through the long, well structured finish. Drink or hold.”

- 90 – WINE ADVOCATE, October 31, 2019

“The leafy and varietal 2017 Reserva Cabernet Sauvignon has fruit in the foreground, and the oak is neatly folded into the fruit, coming through as harmonious and elegant, not terribly complex, quite fruit driven but nicely balanced and fresh and with a tasty finish...”