“Press Highlights”

2019

- 91 Pts. – JAMES SUCKLING, February 20, 2022

“Plums, cherries, earth and mushrooms on the nose. Medium-bodied with fine tannins. Balanced and layered with a silky texture and a flavorful finish. Drink from 2023.”

2018

- 90 Pts. – JAMES SUCKLING, March 3, 2021

“A fine, creamy red with refined tannins and a nice combination of currant and light chocolate with cedar undertones. Drink or hold.”

2016

- 93 Pts. – JAMES SUCKLING, January 19, 2019

“A bright and gently smoky edge to the nose with ripe blueberries and blue plums on offer. The palate has a smooth, plush and brightly delivered array of forest fruit. Fresh and long. I like this. Try from 2022.”

- 92 Pts. – WINE ADVOCATE, March 29, 2019

“The deep garnet-purple colored 2016 La France Delhomme strides boldly out of the glass with blackcurrant cordial, blackberry pie and black cherry compote notes with hints of pencil shavings, baking spices and fragrant earth. Medium to full-bodied, the palate is laden with energetic, juicy black fruit, framed by ripe, fine-grained tannins, finishing with great freshness and purity.”

2015

- 91 Pts. – JAMES SUCKLING, February 2, 2018

“Plenty of ripe fruit with chocolate and sandalwood character. Medium body, round tannins and a delicious finish. Why wait? Enjoy.”

2014

- 91 Pts. – JAMES SUCKLING, February 15, 2017

“I like the ripe-plum and berry character here. Sweet tobacco, too. Medium to full body, fine tannins and a fruity finish. Very pretty wine. Drink in 2020.”
