

Famiglia Bianchi Malbec

'Press Highlights'

2021

•91 – JAMES SUCKLING, March 8, 2022

"Notes of raspberries, blueberries, chocolate, dried herbs and peppermint. Medium-to full-bodied with fine tannins. Round and velvety with plenty of sweet berry fruit. Juicy finish with bright acidity. Drink now or hold."

2020

•91 – JAMES SUCKLING, February 16, 2021

"A pretty young malbec with an attractive, linear flow of tannins through the center palate and juicy, plummy fruit. Not overdone. Fine finish."

2019

•90 – VINOUS, October 21, 2020

"A Malbec from Mendoza, 30% aged for eight months in used oak. Bright purple in huge. The well-defined fruity aromas include fresh plum and cherry, plus hints of blood and white pepper. Flavorsome and succinct with moderate freshness, it flows free and smooth, the aging process showing at the back of the mouth. Fruity, pleasant finish."

•91 – JAMES SUCKLING, April 2, 2020

"Medium-bodied red with cranberry and blueberry flavors, as well as grapey and floral notes. Fruity and easy at the end. Drink now."

2018

•92 – JAMES SUCKLING, April 2, 2020

"An attractive, balanced red with blueberry and light hazelnut character, as well as chocolate. Medium-bodied, fresh and vivid. Drink or hold."

2017

•90 – JAMES SUCKLING, March 27, 2019

"An array of toasted spice aromas are dusted across tarry dark-fruit notes that follow to the palate where smooth, ripe and easygoing style prevails. Drink or hold."

2014

•90 – WINE SPECTATOR, March 31, 2016

"A rich and well-spiced style, with concentrated flavors of dark plum, dark cherry and dried raspberry. This is loaded with chocolate and smoke notes that linger on the finish. Drink now through 2020."

2010

•90 – WINE ADVOCATE, Dec. 2011