

93 Pts.

“...Overall, this is a Port with a difference that has been consistently excellent of late...it has a classic demeanor, with pure flavors and inky black color. Given the method of vinification, it seems slight in mouthfeel on opening, but it is bigger and more persistent than it seems at first. The texture becomes silky as it airs out. As always, its hallmark is its purity. It is all clean fruit with steel underneath...”

January 29, 2021

