POINTS

“This deep, inky, purple-hued wine imparts decadent aromas of blackberry, blueberry, boysenberry and marionberry complemented by toasted wood, chocolate and a subtle scent of smoky-umami. Full-on tannins greet the palate, but they are mature and feel purposeful and are—most importantly—well matched with the voluptuous, ripe nature of the fruits and balanced by acidity. Deep and complex now, this wine will become even more interesting with age.”
