(91) Cortonesi La Mannella Brunello di Montalcino 2019 (Italy).

The Cortonesi family established themselves as wine producers in the 70's with 138 acres under cultivation. They produced their first brunello in 1990, and sourcing for this wine comes from a select 19-acre plot. Young tannins, but very age-worthy. Hand-picked and sorted, this wine undergoes extended maceration in stainless steel before aging for 36 months in Slavonian oak. Rich dark fruit notes, hints of almond and spice. Great holiday wine for grilled pork, osso buco or prime rib. ($81.99)
